

EVERYBODY

PADDLES

MARCH PADDLER OF THE MONTH

PADDLER OF THE MONTH: ANTHONY MIGLIORE, JR.

Anthony R. Migliore Jr., is a full time student at Baruch College. With only a few months of operations, The Corporate Ethics and Etiquette Society, founded by Anthony, has created and co-sponsored over 50 events with leading Top Executives from Colgate-Palmolive, HBO, Home Depot, IBE Trade Corporation, Syzygy3 and Showtime as well as political leaders and community organizers, who share practical advice and experiences about business and the journey to leadership roles. Anthony and his fellow classmates have teamed up with senior centers, homeless shelters and soup kitchens to help prepare and serve over 3,000 meals for homeless seniors and other people in need. They also have participated in the Autism Speaks walks for autistic individuals; and also have worked with The College Against Cancer in their fight against cancer.

In 2012, in addition to his other collaborative ventures, Anthony has created another campus organization called The Global Networking Society (GNS). Since its inception, GNS has held numerous events during his tenure as President, inviting speakers to share the importance of contributing to the communities and society through volunteering services. For his GNS work, he was then awarded the Rookie of the Year and Emerging Leader awards at Baruch College.

A student recently said, "when I am look for advice or some type of assistance I call Anthony."

For his efforts and endeavors to assist the student body in having practical career direction, Anthony R. Miligore, Jr. is our March Paddler of the Month.

To see more about the Anthony's work visit: www.ceaesabc.weebly.com.

