THE 1041 MT: INTRODUCTION TO THEATER ARTS
Hybrid Traditional / Online Course

Baruch College, Vertical Campus 3-185
Fall 2014, T 11:10 – 12:25 PM and online at http://blogs.baruch.cuny.edu/theaterhybridf14/

Professor: Dr. Debra Caplan (debra.caplan@baruch.cuny.edu)
Office: NVC 7-229 Phone: 646-312-4057
Office Hours: Thursdays 10:30 - 12:30 & by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course is an introduction to the art of theater. We will examine how theatrical productions are developed via artistic collaborations between writers, actors, directors, designers, producers, and audience members. Students will read plays and theater reviews, attend theatrical productions, and participate in workshops and conversations with guest artists. Attendance at professional performances in New York City outside of class is a required part of the course. Hybrid online/in-person activities and assignments will allow students to connect with performers and other theater professionals and to interact with New York’s theater scene.

LEARNING GOALS
By the end of this course, students will be able to:
• Identify the basic components of live theatrical performance
• Indicate how these elements produce an effect on audiences
• Explain practical aspects of creating, participating in, and attending theater
• Critically analyze a script
• Distinguish between different dramatic genres and historical periods
• Navigate New York City’s theater scene
• Critique theatrical performance and respond aesthetically to theater
• Articulate how theater is understood and created differently in cultures around the world

GRADING
In-Class Attendance and Participation (10%) 10 points
Weekly Online Assignments (25%) 25 points
Performance Reviews (2) (20%) 20 points
Production Team Project (15%) 15 points
Quizzes (2) (10%) 10 points
Final Exam (20%) 20 points
Total possible: 100 points

EXTRA CREDIT: You may earn extra credit for attending up to two additional theater productions not required for this course. Attendance at any live performance (other than a concert or standup comedy) will count, including theater, musical theater, dance, opera, performance art, and circus. Each performance is worth 1 point extra credit. You must write a two-page (minimum) analysis of what you saw and how it relates to the topics covered in this course. A ticket stub MUST be attached. Extra credit must be submitted by December 9th.

REQUIREMENTS

A) Attendance and Participation (10%)
   The simplest way to do well in this course is to attend all classes and contribute to class discussion. Attendance will be taken at each class. As per Baruch’s attendance policy, you are only permitted four absences for the semester unless there are extenuating circumstances. Failure to submit an online assignment will count as missing one class. If you are absent 5 times, I will drop you from the course with a grade of WU (the equivalent of an F). If you choose to withdraw, please note that November 6th is the last day that you can receive a grade of W (i.e. a withdrawal that does not affect your GPA).

   Attendance will be taken at the instructor’s discretion. Sometimes attendance will be taken at the beginning of class, other times in the middle, and sometimes at the end. If you are not present when attendance is taken, you will be marked absent. The doors to the classroom lock automatically, and I will not admit students who arrive later than 11:30.

   Attendance at all scheduled class sessions is especially important in a hybrid course, as we have only half the number of sessions as a traditional course. As such, you are only permitted only one unexcused absence from a Tuesday class without penalty. After that, you will lose 1 point for every subsequent absence.

   Lateness Policy: Three latenesses (more than 5 minutes) will count as one absence.

B) Weekly Online Assignments (25%)
   Each week, in lieu of a class session, you are required to complete an online assignment. Directions for these assignments will be posted online at our Blogs@Baruch site (http://blogs.baruch.cuny.edu/theaterhybridf14/).

   Online assignments are due every Sunday night (as indicated in the syllabus) by 11:59 PM. Each online assignment is worth 2 points towards your final grade.

   2 points: Evidence of serious attention put towards assignment, all requirements fulfilled, on-time submission

   1.5 points: Assignment called for more work or intellectual investment than demonstrated; not all requirements fulfilled; on-time submission

   1 point: Assignment is late and/or does not demonstrate an adequate engagement with the assignment; several requirements unfulfilled

   0 points: Assignment is more than 3 days late or not submitted

   12 online assignments x 2 points each = 24 possible points

   Students who submit all 12 weekly assignments on time will receive an additional bonus point at the end of the semester.

   Online assignments will vary in difficulty and length. A typical online assignment will require you to engage in an online activity (visit a website or digital archive, collect media on Storify, annotate a video clip) and then reflect upon that activity in a blog post. Blog posts will typically have a minimum length of 500 words (approximately 1.5 pages of typed, double-spaced text), but length requirements may vary. I recommend that you schedule a weekly timeslot of at least 75 minutes to complete these assignments. Some assignments may require more or less time investment, so please plan ahead. Assignments that ask you to respond to a reading may require less time; assignments that ask you to do online research, engage in an online meeting, or find and annotate media may require more.

C) Two Performance Reviews (2-3 pages each) (20%)
Short reviews of two theatrical productions of your choice, 10 points each. You may attend plays, musical theater, dance, opera, or performance art productions to complete this requirement (concerts, improv, and standup comedy do not count). Tickets and playbills must be submitted with your review to receive full credit.

D) Production Team Project (15%)
Student teams will prepare a design and production concept for a play of their choice. Each student will build a design board, and will submit a concept statement. Teams will also submit a collaboratively authored “mission statement” that summarizes their collective approach to the production. You will be graded both on your individual contributions (15 points) and on the overall success of your team’s project (5 points), as evidenced by the final product and your team’s process website.

E) Two Quizzes (10%)
Quizzes will be administered in class on dates announced in the syllabus and will consist of vocabulary and short answer questions. Quizzes cannot be made up for any reason.

F) Final Exam (15%)
The final exam will consist of identification, short answer, and essay questions. The exam is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, December 23rd from 1 - 3 PM, subject to change as per Baruch’s final exam schedule. There will be no early exams or makeups.

REQUIRED TEXTS
Students are required to acquire a copy of the following play, available at the Baruch bookstore and on reserve at the Newman Library:

All other reading and viewing material will be provided online via the course website.

THEATERGOING REQUIREMENT
All students will be required to attend and review two theater productions of their choice during the semester. These productions may be anywhere in NYC or beyond, but they must be live. Circus, vaudeville, and other forms of popular theatrical entertainment can count at the instructor’s discretion; comedy shows and music concerts do not. It is your responsibility to arrange for tickets. Information about reasonably priced theater performances across the city will be distributed in class and via email regularly.

COURSE OUTLINE
Readings/viewings are to be completed prior to the date for which they are listed. Online assignments are to be completed on or before 11:59 PM on the Sunday evening when they are listed.

UNIT ONE: UNDERSTANDING THEATER
What is theater? How is it made? How do we read a play? How do we interpret a production? What is the role of the theater artist in society?

OFFICE HOURS & APPOINTMENTS
My office hours are Thursdays from 10:30 AM to 12:30 PM. I am also available to meet with students outside of these times by appointment. These meetings are an opportunity for us to discuss class material, your progress, assignments, preparing for exams, your feedback on the course, or anything else related to this class. You may make appointments for regular office hours online by visiting http://caplan.youcanbook.me

If you would like to set up a time to meet outside of office hours, please email me to schedule an appointment. Meeting with you is a chance for me to get to know you better, which in turn, enables me to tailor your experience of this course.

EMAIL CONTACT
Please allow 48 hours for receipt and response to all emails. Email correspondence should be reserved for setting appointments outside of office hours and for quick clarification questions. If you have questions that require a longer explanation, it’s best to make an appointment.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS
FORMATTING: All written work should be typed in 12 point font and double-spaced, with one-inch margins on all sides.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS: One day late – 1 letter grade reduction (i.e. A to B)
Two days late – two letter grade reduction (i.e. A to C)
Three days late – three letter grade reduction (i.e. A to D)
PAPERS 4+ DAYS LATE WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED

I encourage you to use the services offered by the Baruch Writing Center. Writing Center consultants are available to meet with you and/or consult via email, online chat, or phone to help you with your writing.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
Cheating and plagiarism are serious offenses. My policy is to give a failing grade to any assignment that has been plagiarized or an exam in which you have cheated, I am also required by Baruch College policy to submit a report of suspected academic dishonesty to the Office of the Dean of Students. This report becomes part of your permanent file.

Cheating is the attempted or unauthorized use of materials, information, notes, study aids, devices or communication during an academic exercise. Examples include but are not limited to:
- Copying from another student or allowing another to copy your work
- Unauthorized collaboration on an assignment or examination
- Taking an examination for another student
- Asking or allowing another student to take an examination for you
- Submitting substantial portions of the same paper to two classes without consulting the second instructor
- Allowing others to research and write assigned papers including the use of commercial term paper services

Plagiarism is the act of presenting another person's ideas, research or writing as your own:
- Copying another person's actual words without the use of quotation marks and footnotes
- Presenting another person's ideas or theories in your own words without acknowledgment
- Using information that is not considered common knowledge without acknowledgment
- Failure to acknowledge collaborators on homework assignments

For more on plagiarism, see the online tutorial prepared by the Newman Library faculty: http://newman.baruch.cuny.edu/help/plagiarism/default.htm.

DIGITAL ETIQUETTE
Please turn off your phone and/or other electronic devices before you enter the classroom. You will learn more if you can concentrate on the course while you're in the classroom. For this reason, I ask that students not use laptop and tablet computers in class. If you have a documented disability or extenuating circumstances that require you to use a laptop or tablet, please speak with me. Recording of lectures and classroom discussions is also strictly prohibited.
